THE PREMIER SHOWCASE FOR GREAT CHAMBER MUSIC IN NORTHERN VIRGINIA

This free classical music series, now in its 40th season, features professional musicians who have won international recognition for their artistry. The new season's series also includes three Young Soloists Recitals that will showcase the talents of local school-age musicians.

Please note: Performances are subject to change. For updates, go to www.fairfaxcounty.gov/library.

SEPTEMBER 14, 2014, 3 P.M.

Opening the 2014-2015 season will be pianist Eric Himy, who recently performed the Rachmaninoff Rhapsody on a Theme by Paganini with the National Symphony Orchestra in Panama under Jorge Lezdema Bradley. A graduate of the Juilliard School and student of Adele Marcus, he has performed with orchestras all over the world and made many recordings, including his Schumann CD, which was picked by BBC as a CD of the year. His performances and recordings of Gershwin have also been highly praised.

The young Czech violinist Josef Spacek is fast emerging as one of the most talented virtuosos of his generation. A student of Ida Kavafian and Jaime Laredo at the Curtis Institute of Music and Itzhak Perlman at the Juilliard School, he was laureate of the International Queen Elisabeth Competition in Brussels and the winner in 2009 of the Michael Hill International Violin Competition in New Zealand. He currently combines a flourishing solo career with the position of concert master of the Czech Philharmonic Orchestra. In 2013 the Supraphon label released his first recital recording of works by Janacek, Smetana and Prokofiev, and Naxos released his recording of works by H. W. Ernst. He plays a Jean-Baptiste Vuillaume violin made in 1855.

Steven Honigberg, cellist, is a member of the National Symphony Orchestra and of Gerard Schwarz's All-Star Orchestra, and a graduate of the Juilliard School, where he studied with Leonard Rose and Channing Robbins. He has recently given recitals on the Dumbarton Concert Series, at the Phillips Collection, at the National Gallery of Art, in New York and throughout the United States. He has appeared on radio WFMT (Chicago), at the Ravinia Festival, and as soloist with the Chicago Symphony, Ars Viva Orchestra, Lake Forest Symphony and New Philharmonia Orchestra among others. Recently he appeared with the National Symphony in a performance at the Kennedy Center of Erich Wolfgang Korngold's Cello Concerto. He is also active in chamber music. Honigberg performs on a Lorenzo Storioni cello made in Cremona in 1789.

YANAGITANI

Ryo Yanagitani, pianist, has distinguished himself as one of Canada's most promising young concert artists, where he has performed with several orchestras and given many solo recitals, as well as collaborating in chamber music. Ryo received his Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the Yale School of Music under Boris Berman, a Bachelor Degree in Piano Performance from the University of British Columbia, and an Artist Diploma from the Cleveland Institute. He currently holds the post of Artist-in-residence for the S&R Foundation of Washington, DC, and is artistic advisor of the Overture concert series at the Evermay estate in Georgetown. Ryo is a recipient of many scholarships and awards and has recently released two solo CDs of works by Chopin and Debussy. He is also increasingly recognized not only as a performer but also as a pedagogue and is frequently asked to adjudicate competitions and conduct masterclasses in North America and Asia.
